Activity report

A new visual identity

For nearly a quarter of a century, ARILOG has grown and evolved alongside the Romanian logistics industry. It has attracted and connected professionals from diverse sectors, bringing together experts from 3PL, courier services, equipment and technology providers, industrial real estate, manufacturing, retail, consultancy, and academia. It has fostered environments for dialogue, learning, and the exchange of best practices. Sometimes formally, other times informally, but always with the same intent: to build bridges.

The association's new image stems from this exact concept: the idea of connection. It reflects the association's role as an intermediary between generations, between experience and curiosity, and between accumulated know-how and the drive to move forward. ARILOG represents a bridge of knowledge and the sharing of best practices.

The association's new logo is more than just a cosmetic change; it is a statement. ARILOG explicitly embraces the two pillars that have defined its activity since its inception, highlighting them through two taglines that clearly state the association's purpose:

Bridge of Knowledge focuses on continuous professional education. On the desire of ARILOG members to share what they have learned throughout their careers. This includes the ARCA course (Customs Procedures and Legislation), the "ARILOG for Students" program, which encompasses the ARILOG Summer School, Winter School, Di-ARILOG, and the Students' Club and the upcoming ARILOG Workshop - a series of short, efficient workshops on operational topics.

These initiatives complement formal education by connecting it to industry reality. It is the bridge between theory and practice, and between those at the start of their journey and the professionals who have already navigated the challenges of the field.

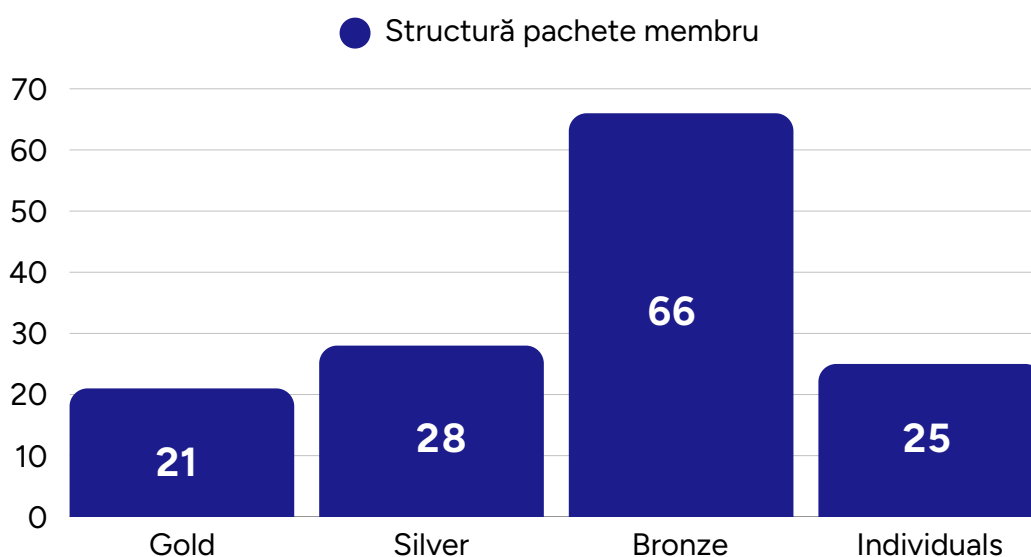

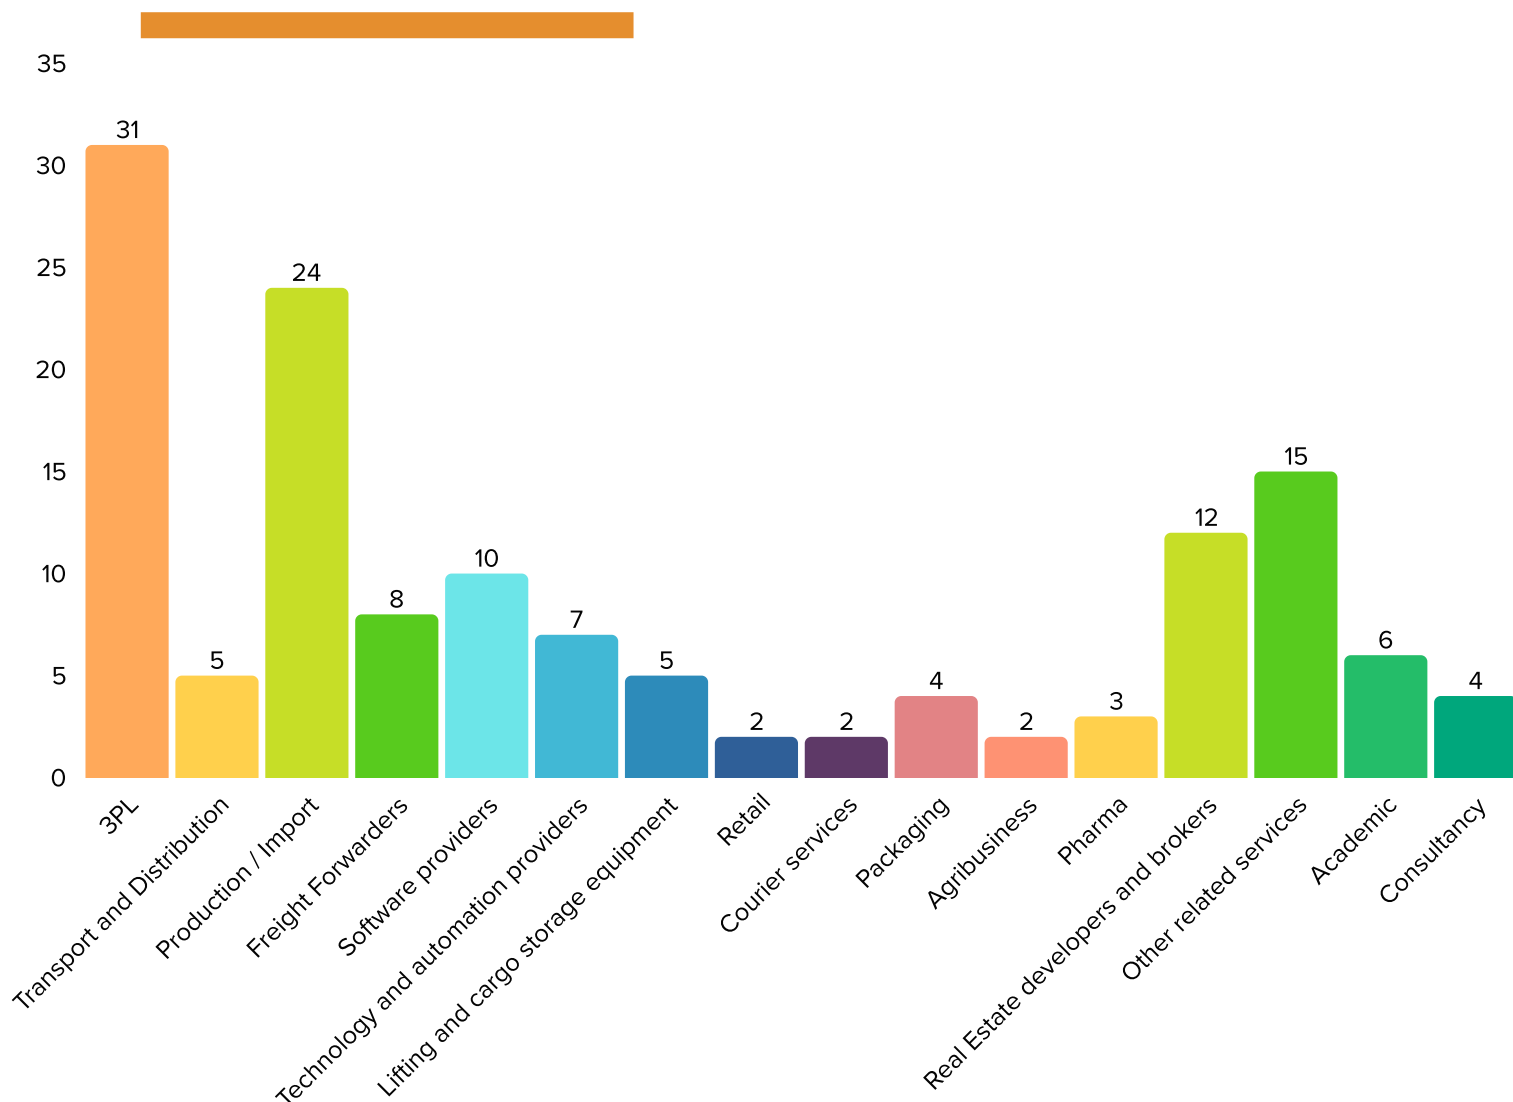

Bridge of Sharing speaks about community. About the exchange of best practices, openness, and genuine networking. About the fact that ARILOG is an association open to various industry segments and a common space where different perspectives meet and complement one another. It is the bridge between companies, sectors, and ideas. The place where experience is shared, not kept.

The new logo doesn't change what the association is. It more clearly defines who ARILOG is. The logo integrates a bridge as a symbol of connection and the community of professionals who build bridges. Between people. Between generations. Between ideas. More visibly than ever, ARILOG embraces its role in connecting the industry of today with the industry of tomorrow to create a better business environment.

Defining professional qualifications

We responded positively to the invitation from the National Center for Professional and Technical Education Development to define three professional qualifications for the Logistics field, relevant to the labor market and with real insertion opportunities. In this way, each student will be able to qualify and continue their education throughout their life, thus contributing to the development of the community and the consolidation of Romanian society.

At the association level, we have created an operational working group responsible for identifying market needs and defining these qualifications.

Partnerships

ARILOG continuously develops collaboration partnerships with organizations with which we share the same values.

Alongside the partnerships developed over the last 15 years with specialized magazines Intermodal & Logistics, Tranzit și Ziua Cargo, and with the company Business Mark, for the year 2026 we will extend our collaboration with Progresiv magazine and the Romanian-German Chamber of Commerce and Industry - AHK. The goal of these partnerships is mutual support for the development of projects and their promotion to more professionals, more companies, and more industries.

News & other stories

ARILOG specialists constantly support the association's members with recommendations and advice regarding the understanding and correct application of legislation concerning the RO e-Transport System. Likewise, there is a constant effort for communication with authorities for the RO e-Transport legislation, its harmonization, and constant attempts to modify this legislation having at its base the difficulties and anomalies faced by the industry.

In 2026, we are preparing for you a podcast on legal and legislative topics with a direct impact on the logistics business. Alongside the company Danilescu, Hulub și Asociații (ARILOG member) we will present to you a series of topics, analyses, and recommendations for a correct application of the legislation:

- Commercial contracts and liability clauses.
- Labor relations / Labor law.
- Competition issues.
- Compliance with environmental protection legislation.
- Financing / Investments.
- Liability in case of loss or damage of goods and many more.

The podcast will be available on the Association's YouTube channel.
